really a communist or worse in disguise. She wants the state to compel everybody to teach phonics. Now she says she's a conservative. So all these conservatives are, are radicals in disguise waiting to break out. Now here I'm supposed to be a liberal. I'm against that bill that they have...bless you, Senator Tyson. I was agin that bill this morning that was going to make one city pay another one back for training a police officer. So if I'm a radical and that was a conservative position, you can say all a radical is, is a conservative waiting to bust out. What it really shows is that we take positions based on the particular issue. And on this one, I have a rock solid position against advancing a bill like this when it's in the shape that it's in. It hasn't even been adequately explained. Questions cannot be answered. What is going to become of the money? And I know traditionally we just go ahead and pass it along. But I'm not going to go for that today, brothers and sisters, and I just can't help it, that's the way that I am.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Senator Wehrbein.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Mr. Speaker, I'd move we adjourn until Monday, January 26th, is that right, at 9:00 a.m.
